

Foundation Subjects Curriculum Design (Key Stage One and Key Stage Two)

Subject	How the subject is delivered in different phases of school:
	Key Stage One	Middle Phase (Year Three and Year Four)	Upper Phase (Year Five and Year Six)
Science	Approximately three units delivered per year (six per two-year cycle), connected to the topic wherever possible. Scientific enquiry skills are taught discretely in a separate lesson and also combined within the Science topic teaching. Scientific enquiry skills are usually delivered weekly (approximately half an hour per week). The units of Science are usually delivered weekly during approximately three half terms (approximately one hour per week). Units cover all the requirements of the National Curriculum over the two-year cycle.	Approximately six units delivered per year (twelve per two-year cycle), connected to the topic wherever possible. Scientific enquiry skills are combined within the Science topic teaching. The units of Science are usually delivered weekly (approximately one hour per week). Units cover all the requirements of the National Curriculum over the two-year cycle.	Approximately six units delivered per year (twelve per two-year cycle), connected to the topic wherever possible. Scientific enquiry skills are combined within the Science topic teaching. The units of Science are usually delivered weekly (approximately one hour per week). Units cover all the requirements of the National Curriculum over the two-year cycle.
Geography	Approximately three units delivered per year (six per two-year cycle), usually interchangeable with History. This is connected to the topic. The units are usually delivered weekly during approximately three half terms (approximately one hour per week). Units cover all the requirements of the National Curriculum over the two-year cycle.	Approximately three units delivered per year (six per two-year cycle), usually interchangeable with History. This is connected to the topic. The units are usually delivered weekly during approximately three half terms (approximately one hour per week). Units cover all the requirements of the National Curriculum over the two-year cycle.	Approximately three units delivered per year (six per two-year cycle), usually interchangeable with History. This is connected to the topic. The units are usually delivered weekly during approximately three half terms (approximately one hour per week). Units cover all the requirements of the National Curriculum over the two-year cycle.

Subject	How the subject is delivered in different phases of school:
	Key Stage One	Middle Phase (Year Three and Year Four)	Upper Phase (Year Five and Year Six)
History	Approximately three units delivered per year (six per two-year cycle), usually interchangeable with Geography. These are connected to the topic. The units are usually delivered weekly during approximately three half terms (approximately one hour per week). Units cover all the requirements of the National Curriculum over the two-year cycle.	Approximately three units delivered per year (six per two-year cycle), usually interchangeable with Geography. The units are usually delivered weekly during approximately three half terms (approximately one hour per week). Units cover all the requirements of the National Curriculum over the two-year cycle.	Approximately three units delivered per year (six per two-year cycle), usually interchangeable with Geography. These are connected to the topic. The units are usually delivered weekly during approximately three half terms (approximately one hour per week). Units cover all the requirements of the National Curriculum over the two-year cycle.
Art and Design	Three units delivered per year (six per two-year cycle), usually interchangeable with Design Technology. These are connected to the topic. Each year, the following must be covered in depth: drawing skills, painting, 3D (sculpture). In addition, the study of a famous artist must be included in at least one of the units. The units are usually delivered weekly during three half terms (approximately one hour per week) or blocked (approximately five hours or one day). Units cover all the requirements of the National Curriculum over the two-year cycle.	Three units delivered per year (six per two-year cycle), usually interchangeable with Design Technology. These are connected to the topic. Each year, the following must be covered in depth: drawing skills, painting, 3D (sculpture). In addition, the study of a famous artist must be included in at least one of the units. The units are usually delivered weekly during three half terms (approximately one hour per week) or blocked (approximately five hours or one day). Units cover all the requirements of the National Curriculum over the two-year cycle.	Three units delivered per year (six per two-year cycle), usually interchangeable with Design Technology. These are connected to the topic. Each year, the following must be covered in depth: drawing skills, painting, 3D (sculpture). In addition, the study of a famous artist must be included in at least one of the units. The units are usually delivered weekly during three half terms (approximately one hour per week) or blocked (approximately five hours or one day). Units cover all the requirements of the National Curriculum over the two-year cycle.

Subject	How the subject is delivered in different phases of school:
	Key Stage One	Middle Phase (Year Three and Year Four)	Upper Phase (Year Five and Year Six)
Design Technology	Three units delivered per year (six per two-year cycle). These are connected to the topic. Each year, the following must be covered in depth: textiles, construction, mechanisms. In addition, cooking and nutrition must be included. This can be a short, blocked unit, which may have cross-curricular links to the half-termly topic. The units are usually delivered weekly during three half terms (approximately one hour per week) or blocked (approximately five hours or one day). Units cover all the requirements of the National Curriculum over the two-year cycle.	Three units delivered per year (six per two-year cycle). These are connected to the topic. Each year, the following must be covered in depth: textiles, construction, mechanisms. In addition, cooking and nutrition must be included. This can be a short, blocked unit, which may have cross-curricular links to the half-termly topic. The units are usually delivered weekly during three half terms (approximately one hour per week) or blocked (approximately five hours or one day). Units cover all the requirements of the National Curriculum over the two-year cycle.	Three units delivered per year (six per two-year cycle). These are connected to the topic. Each year, the following must be covered in depth: textiles, construction, mechanisms. In addition, cooking and nutrition must be included. This can be a short, blocked unit, which may have cross-curricular links to the half-termly topic. The units are usually delivered weekly during three half terms (approximately one hour per week) or blocked (approximately five hours or one day). Units cover all the requirements of the National Curriculum over the two-year cycle.
Physical Education	Twelve units delivered per year (twenty-four per two-year cycle). Two units are usually delivered per half term: one based on skills and games and one dance or gymnastics. Dance is connected to the topic wherever possible. There are two one-hour P.E. lessons per week. The units of work are taken from the REAL P.E and REAL GYM scheme along with the I-Moves Dance scheme. Units cover all the requirements of the National Curriculum over the two-year cycle.	Twelve units delivered per year (twenty-four per two-year cycle). Two units are usually delivered per half term: one based on skills and games and one dance, gymnastics, or outdoor and adventurous activities. Dance is connected to the topic wherever possible. There are two one-hour P.E. lessons per week. The units of work are taken from the REAL P.E and REAL GYM scheme along with the I-Moves Dance scheme. In addition, all Year Four children attend a weekly swimming lesson at the Hillsborough Sports Centre once a week for 18 weeks.	Twelve units delivered per year (twenty-four per two-year cycle). Two units are usually delivered per half term: one based on skills and games and one dance, gymnastics, or outdoor and adventurous activities. Dance is connected to the topic wherever possible. There are two one-hour P.E. lessons per week. The units of work are taken from the REAL P.E and REAL GYM scheme along with the I-Moves Dance scheme. Units cover all the requirements of the National Curriculum over the two-year cycle.

Subject	How the subject is delivered in different phases of school:
	Key Stage One	Middle Phase (Year Three and Year Four)	Upper Phase (Year Five and Year Six)
		Units cover all the requirements of the National Curriculum over the two-year cycle.
Computing	Five units of work delivered per year (twelve per two-year cycle; year groups are taught age-specific content). These are connected to the topic wherever possible. The units are usually delivered every two weeks (approximately one hour), interchangeable with another subject. The units of work are taken from the Sheffield Computing scheme. Units cover all the requirements of the National Curriculum over the two-year cycle.	Six units of work delivered per year (twelve per two-year cycle; year groups are taught age-specific content). These are connected to the topic wherever possible. The units are usually delivered weekly during approximately six half terms (approximately one hour per week). The units of work are taken from the Sheffield Computing scheme. Units cover all the requirements of the National Curriculum over the two-year cycle.	Six units of work delivered per year (twelve per two-year cycle; year groups are taught age-specific content). These are connected to the topic wherever possible. The units are usually delivered weekly during approximately six half terms (approximately one hour per week). The units of work are taken from the Sheffield Computing scheme. Units cover all the requirements of the National Curriculum over the two-year cycle.
Religious Education	Approximately six units delivered per year (twelve per two-year cycle). These are can be taught discretely from the topic. The units are usually delivered every two weeks (approximately one hour), interchangeable with another subject. The units of work are taken from the Sheffield Religious Education scheme.	Approximately six units delivered per year (twelve per two-year cycle). These are can be taught discretely from the topic. The units are usually delivered weekly for approximately half an hour. The units of work are taken from the Sheffield Religious Education scheme.	Approximately six units delivered per year (twelve per two-year cycle). These are can be taught discretely from the topic. The units are usually delivered every two weeks (approximately one hour), interchangeable with another subject. The units of work are taken from the Sheffield Religious Education scheme.
Music	Six units delivered per year (twelve per two-year cycle), connected to the topic wherever possible. The units are usually delivered every two weeks (approximately one hour), interchangeable with another subject. In addition, music for Christmas and/or summer performances are blocked and	For children in Year Three, six units are delivered per year (twelve per two-year cycle), connected to the topic wherever possible. The units are usually delivered weekly for approximately half an hour.	Six units delivered per year (twelve per two-year cycle), connected to the topic wherever possible. The units are usually delivered every two weeks (approximately one hour), interchangeable with another subject. In addition, special projects (e.g. working with outside specialists) are blocked. Music for

Subject	How the subject is delivered in different phases of school:
	Key Stage One	Middle Phase (Year Three and Year Four)	Upper Phase (Year Five and Year Six)
	replace the prescribed unit for that half term. The units are taken from the Charanga scheme and other sources. Units cover all the requirements of the National Curriculum over the two-year cycle.	All Year Four children learn the clarinet for forty-five minutes a week for the whole year. The units are taken from the Charanga scheme and other sources. Units cover all the requirements of the National Curriculum over the two-year cycle.	the Year Six summer performance can also be blocked and replace the prescribed unit for that half term. The units are taken from the Charanga scheme and other sources. Units cover all the requirements of the National Curriculum over the two-year cycle.
PSHE and SEAL	Six units of work delivered per year (repeated once within the two-year cycle). There is also a weekly SEAL assembly and follow-up circle time. The units are usually delivered every two weeks (approximately half an hour), interchangeable with another subject, or blocked e.g. internet safety, sex education, road safety. Year Two undertake one unit of sex education. These are based on the Channel Four 'Living and Growing' scheme but is adapted for the school's needs.	Six units of work delivered per year (repeated once within the two-year cycle). There is also a weekly KS2 and phase SEAL assembly. In-class circle time is delivered in response to the children's needs. The units are usually delivered every two weeks (approximately half an hour), interchangeable with another subject, or blocked e.g. road safety.	Six units of work delivered per year (repeated once within the two-year cycle). There is also a weekly SEAL assembly and follow-up circle time. The units are usually delivered every two weeks (approximately half an hour), interchangeable with another subject, or blocked e.g. sex education, road safety. Year Five undertake one unit of sex education. This is based on the Channel Four 'Living and Growing' scheme but is adapted for the school's needs. Year Five are delivered a week's block of cycling proficiency (Bikeability), delivered by external providers. Year Six are delivered a day's block of safety awareness (Crucial Crew), delivered by external providers.
Modern Foreign Languages	N/A	Approximately six units delivered per year (twelve per two-year cycle). These are taught discretely from the topic.	Approximately six units delivered per year (twelve per two-year cycle). These are taught discretely from the topic.

Subject	How the subject is delivered in different phases of school:
	Key Stage One	Middle Phase (Year Three and Year Four)	Upper Phase (Year Five and Year Six)
		The units are usually delivered weekly during six half terms (approximately fifteen minutes per week). The units are taken from the Niveau Bleu schemes. Units cover all the requirements of the National Curriculum over the two-year cycle.	The units are usually delivered weekly during six half terms (approximately half an hour per week). In addition, Year Six are offered the opportunity to attend a week-long residential trip to France. The units are taken from the La Jolie Ronde and Niveau Bleu schemes. Units cover all the requirements of the National Curriculum over the two-year cycle.